

AGAIN

One more for the road that leads to two more,
And three for the ride.
Got an appetite for more that leaves me less, satisfied.
Pour another glass of poison,
Call it a cure.
Drown it out that voice of reason
And let your demons roar.

Oh God I'm alive and no I didn't die again.
Lord I won't survive me myself and I again.
Using that old line, that was the last time again.
Sing my little lie my drunken lullaby again.

Sinking like a stone that I keep throwing
Into the deep.
Forty seven hours on fire and one for feeling the heat.
Maybe I won't see the sunrise,
Tonight is the night.
Knock me out or throw the towel in
Lord let me lose this fight.

Oh God I'm alive and no I didn't die again.
Lord I won't survive me myself and I again.
Using that old line, that was the last time again.
Sing my little lie my drunken lullaby again.

Round and round I go
So high and oh low and behold how I keep going
Down I go again and then I go again and again and again.

Oh God I'm alive and no I didn't die again.
Lord I won't survive me myself and I again.
Using that old line, that was the last time again.
Sing my little lie my drunken lullaby again.
